

FILL IN

HARD

became bird cried cries doesn't face fingers flapped food grabbed hands hungry hunter hunters interested kayak life out paddling promised provides rescue sank storm struck threw unhappy well-dressed whales When

Sedna wasn't (1) in getting married, until she met a young (2) who was (3) and had a nice voice and (4) her a good life. Even though he refused to show his (5), she agreed to marry him. When she got to her new home she found (6) that her husband was not a man, but an evil (7), a raven. There was no home, no furs, and no (8) except for fish. Sedna was very (9) Every day she (10) for her father to come and (11) her. Her father heard her (12) and came in his (13) They were (14) home when Sedna noticed her husband, the raven, coming after them. (15) the raven came close, her father took the paddle and (16) the bird, causing him to fall back. The angry raven then (17) his wings at the ocean and caused a dangerous (18) to blow up. Sedna's father was afraid for his (19), so he (20) his daughter out of the kayak. When Sedna (21) the side of the kayak with her fingers, her father hit her (22) with his paddle until they broke off and (23) into the ocean. Her fingers (24) the seals and fish. Sedna grabbed the kayak again with her (25), but her father hit her hands until they fell into the ocean. Her hands became the (26) and walrus. Sedna is now the goddess of the sea. When she's happy, she (27) animals for the hunters; but when she's angry, she (28) provide any food. When the (29) are not successful, the people are (30)